

SAMUEL DEWITT PROCTOR DISTINGUISHED LECTURE SERIES

COURAGE, CONVICTION, AND COLLABORATION:

What Today's Higher Education Leaders Can Learn from Dr. Samuel DeWitt Proctor

WITH GLORIA D. THOMAS

NOVEMBER 4, 2026

1:00 PM - 2:30 PM ET

This free webinar will be held on zoom
and is open to the general public

Higher education leaders today are navigating an era defined by political polarization, declining public trust, demographic shifts, enrollment pressures, attacks on academic freedom, financial uncertainty, and growing demands for institutional relevance. While these challenges feel unprecedented, history offers powerful examples of leadership forged in equally turbulent times. This lecture will focus on the extraordinary leadership journey of Samuel DeWitt Proctor who led during one of the most consequential periods in American history.

REGISTER AT PROCTOR.GSE.RUTGERS.EDU/SDPLS

RUTGERS-NEW BRUNSWICK

The Samuel DeWitt Proctor Institute
for Leadership, Equity, and Justice

Graduate School of Education

SAMUEL DEWITT PROCTOR DISTINGUISHED LECTURE SERIES

COURAGE, CONVICTION, AND COLLABORATION:

What Today's Higher Education Leaders Can Learn from Dr. Samuel DeWitt Proctor

WITH GLORIA D. THOMAS

NOVEMBER 4, 2026

1:00 PM - 2:30 PM ET

This free webinar will be held on zoom
and is open to the general public

Higher education leaders today are navigating an era defined by political polarization, declining public trust, demographic shifts, enrollment pressures, attacks on academic freedom, financial uncertainty, and growing demands for institutional relevance. While these challenges feel unprecedented, history offers powerful examples of leadership forged in equally turbulent times. This lecture will focus on the extraordinary leadership journey of Samuel DeWitt Proctor who led during one of the most consequential periods in American history.

REGISTER AT THE LINK IN BIO

RUTGERS-NEW BRUNSWICK

The Samuel DeWitt Proctor Institute
for Leadership, Equity, and Justice

Graduate School of Education

SAMUEL DEWITT PROCTOR DISTINGUISHED LECTURE SERIES

COURAGE, CONVICTION, AND COLLABORATION:

What Today's Higher Education Leaders Can Learn from Dr. Samuel DeWitt Proctor

WITH GLORIA D. THOMAS

NOVEMBER 4, 2026

1:00 PM - 2:30 PM ET

This free webinar will be held on zoom
and is open to the general public

Higher education leaders today are navigating an era defined by political polarization, declining public trust, demographic shifts, enrollment pressures, attacks on academic freedom, financial uncertainty, and growing demands for institutional relevance. While these challenges feel unprecedented, history offers powerful examples of leadership forged in equally turbulent times. This lecture will focus on the extraordinary leadership journey of Samuel DeWitt Proctor who led during one of the most consequential periods in American history.

REGISTER AT THE LINK ABOVE

RUTGERS-NEW BRUNSWICK

The Samuel DeWitt Proctor Institute
for Leadership, Equity, and Justice

Graduate School of Education